

Jonathan Otto

Entrepreneur/Land Award-Winning Filmmaker /Business Leader

Jonathan is a multiple award-winning filmmaker, investigative medical journalist, and serial entrepreneur whose self-funded, sole-owned companies—including Health Secret, Red Life, and Well of Life—generate multiple 8-figures annually while impacting millions of lives globally.

His documentaries and training programs are distributed for free, providing access to cutting-edge healing protocols for cancer, autoimmune disease, dementia, and vaccine injuries—regardless of financial means. His work continues to receive hundreds of millions of views, fueling a global movement for natural and regenerative healing.

Jonathan has produced the hit series The Truth About Cancer, The Truth About Vaccine Secrets, and Autoimmune Secrets. He is a trusted advisor to top medical and holistic health experts, many of whom implement the protocols he has innovated, taught, and distributed.

He collaborates with hundreds of the world's leading medical authorities, scientists, researchers, attorneys, and activists, uniting voices to challenge the status quo and deliver solutions that save lives.

Recognized by the Australian Government as Young Citizen of the Year and International Ambassador of the Year, Jonathan also leads ongoing humanitarian work in famine relief and sustainable development across sub-Saharan Africa through a foundation he founded and operates.

He frequently appears as a guest on top social platforms reaching tens of millions of followers, and hosts prominent thought leaders such as Robert F. Kennedy Jr., Ben Greenfield, Del Bigtree, Dr. Daniel Amen, and Nobel Prize-nominated and winning experts on his own platforms.

Jonathan also collaborates with leading health companies and visionary investors to bring breakthrough medical technologies to market—offering real solutions for the most life-threatening diseases. In addition, he works with global organizations to fight human trafficking and protect children, in partnership with Tim Tebow and the Tim Tebow Foundation, the Eagle Freedom Fund, and other influential leaders.
